

universität wien

East Asian Economy and Society

East Asianists and the Job Market

- Open to all students of East Asian Studies -

Monday, October 15th, 6pm

Seminar room OAW (2I-O1-05), Hof 5, AAKH Campus

Praxis-Link East Asia (PLEA) is an initiative taken by the team of East Asian Economy and Society to improve the employability of students in East Asian Studies by offering a chance for an active exchange with former graduates and practitioners. In our next meeting, three graduates of East Asian Studies (in this case: Japanese Studies, Chinese Studies and East Asian Economy and Society) share their experiences on entering the job market and reflect on chances and risks. They talk about dreams and realities, and provide valuable recommendations to current students in an open and interactive setting.

Mag. Chang Yuan Li

studied Chinese Studies and International Business at the University of Vienna. Since 2006, he has been operating his own enterprise LiWiener HandelsgmbH together with another co-founder. The company is active in the areas of Printing Solutions, Color Management Consulting and Software Development for Digital Fine Art Printing and is certified by the renowned Fogra Forschungsgesellschaft Druck e. V. as Digital Print Expert (DPE).

Sandra Bauer, MA

holds degrees in Sinology and East Asian Economy and Society from the University of Vienna. She is equipped with rich work experience in the field of editing and conference organization and currently works as Editor / Project Manager with Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) / Doctors without Borders in Vienna. She is mainly entrusted with editing, publishing and disseminating evaluation results and organizing evaluation workshops.

Mag. Dr. Christoph Klose

holds a Master of Social and Economic Sciences as well as a Doctor of Philosophy in Japanese Studies from the University of Vienna. He has gained work experience in the area of multilateral diplomacy, has been holding the lecture series on "Politics of Japan" and "Politics and Economics of Japan" at the Department of East Asian Studies since 2010, and is currently employed at the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO).

Please register via josef.falko.loher@univie.ac.at. The number of participants is limited.