

universität wien

East Asian Economy and Society

Special Lecture

In Search of Korean Identity. From Self-Peripheralization to World Power

Friday, November 15th, 10:00am

Seminar room OAW (2I-O1-05), Hof 5, AAKH Campus

Lee Eun-Jeung is professor of Korean Studies at the Free University of Berlin. After a master's degree in political science, sociology and ethnology she continued with a PhD in political science at the University of Göttingen. She held teaching and research positions at several universities in Germany, Japan and Korea. Her research interests include the intercultural history of political ideas in Europe and East Asia, political theory and culture, history and society in Korea as well as international comparative transformation research.